VALEDICTORY FUNCTION HELD

Shillong, July 02, 2004: The valedictory function of a five-day training programme on "Utilisation of IT Tools in Government", organised by NIC and sponsored by the Department of DONER was held today at NIC Conference Room. Altogether 30 participants from various State Government Departments took part in the training programme.

Speaking on the occasion as the Chief Guest, the Additional DGP, Mr. W R Marbaniang said that NIC through such training programme is doing a commendable job which would equip the people, particularly the Government employees with better computer knowledge. He added that NIC could be a good support system for the present IT savvy generation and urged for more hands-on approach training which would pave way for a better administrative system in the State.

The function was chaired by Mr. T Dkhar, State Informatics Officer.
